3,

Dear Mitten - alette, (Tee-Hee!)

Hi! How are you? Here we sit and we're sposed to be thinkin' of a skite! Huh? Now isn't this dumb? Oke well, dumb people do dumb things, ain't that right?

Well, I don't know whether it was a good thing I met you or not, sincin' you're such a bad influence! Ha. No lie, I'm really glad I got to know you, cuz you're so much fun, and I love ya!

I didn't eat with you in 9th, but I get to now. Oh, crap - here I am again. I guess I ~~don't~~ don't get to eat with you now. You know how muddled my schedule is! At least I got to tease you about that bit you did in 9th "Look at the time." Hey, that noon how today almost gave me time to sit down, huh?

You know somethin'? I'll never forget our discussions in 9th science. That brought us real close together and I like it that way.

Whenever you need your hair cut you can just come to old Mart. I'll give you a real choppy, but free hair cut. O.K.?

Member when we committed that federal crime? Gee, we're really good - didn't get caught or nothin'.

I just thought of when we went to West and I was sposed to meet you at your house. Sal had made that corsage and we'd all about died laughin', cuz it looked like a ----- And then I finally caught on that it was sposed to represent a bubble!

I could go on for a week!
Good luck in the future!

Friends always!

Love ya!
Marty

Mr. Faulkner - do you suppose the Taylor Publishing Company will permit me to write on this page - I sure hope so!!
 Well - it's been a long time since I came to CF, and already I've got memories stirred up for a life time.
 Don't ever forget good old East and those lunch hours in ninth grade - going pudding all over the place & water in my hair and LOOK AT THE TIME! Play by the way this is the very first yearbook I've ever written in so feel honored.

Have a real champ kid, Faulkner and loads of fun to be around, but I think you should realize that you're too old to be playing rhythm in the Panther (jazz)!

Oh CF just doesn't seem the same this year - for some reason - I think we start whooping it up.

I just read the opposite page - your water is right, there are the best two years of our lives, and the best of it is they will go just like that. How about those forgotten hours at late summer party, hey I'm glad mine wasn't in there - good planning old way. Well, you said I could take up a whole page, and I don't know if I'll make it or not, but will give in a try. Here's to all the football, and basketball games ahead of us, and those behind us, especially, my well ~~well~~ (nice mess, eh?) remember them for a long time. How do you rate anyway? - sitting slap dab in the middle of page 65! Very good, at least you were watching the game & not sitting. Oh, & truly did like 3rd period study hall last year, & sat in that big old of gym - remember, and sitting - at how he loved us!

I can't write decent anymore, clean driven here at the bottom, I did make it, a whole page. Best of luck. Love ya BERNIE

P.S. Don't forget about "ratty boys" these "Mellow Bruth."

Little Sis...

Sure wish I would have been with you in Kansas... wonder why? You're lucky you have another 2 years of school left. These are the best two, and I sure hope you'll like them as well as I liked my Jr. and Sr. years. It's not the parties or boys that count. Now it's really academic standing, school support, and "brownie points" - (haha) You've a great bunch of friends - a little ratty at times but no worse than me and mine! Well, here's to another couple years of arguing over clothes, the car, and the telephone. (Sure glad my feet are littler than yours).

Foreword

We are not on this tiny globe to merely justify our existence but to leave a mark, a sign that may help those who come after to find something deeper, something more perfect. Some of us will choose to injure the delicate mechanics of this machine called Society, while others will attempt to heighten and elevate its evolution.

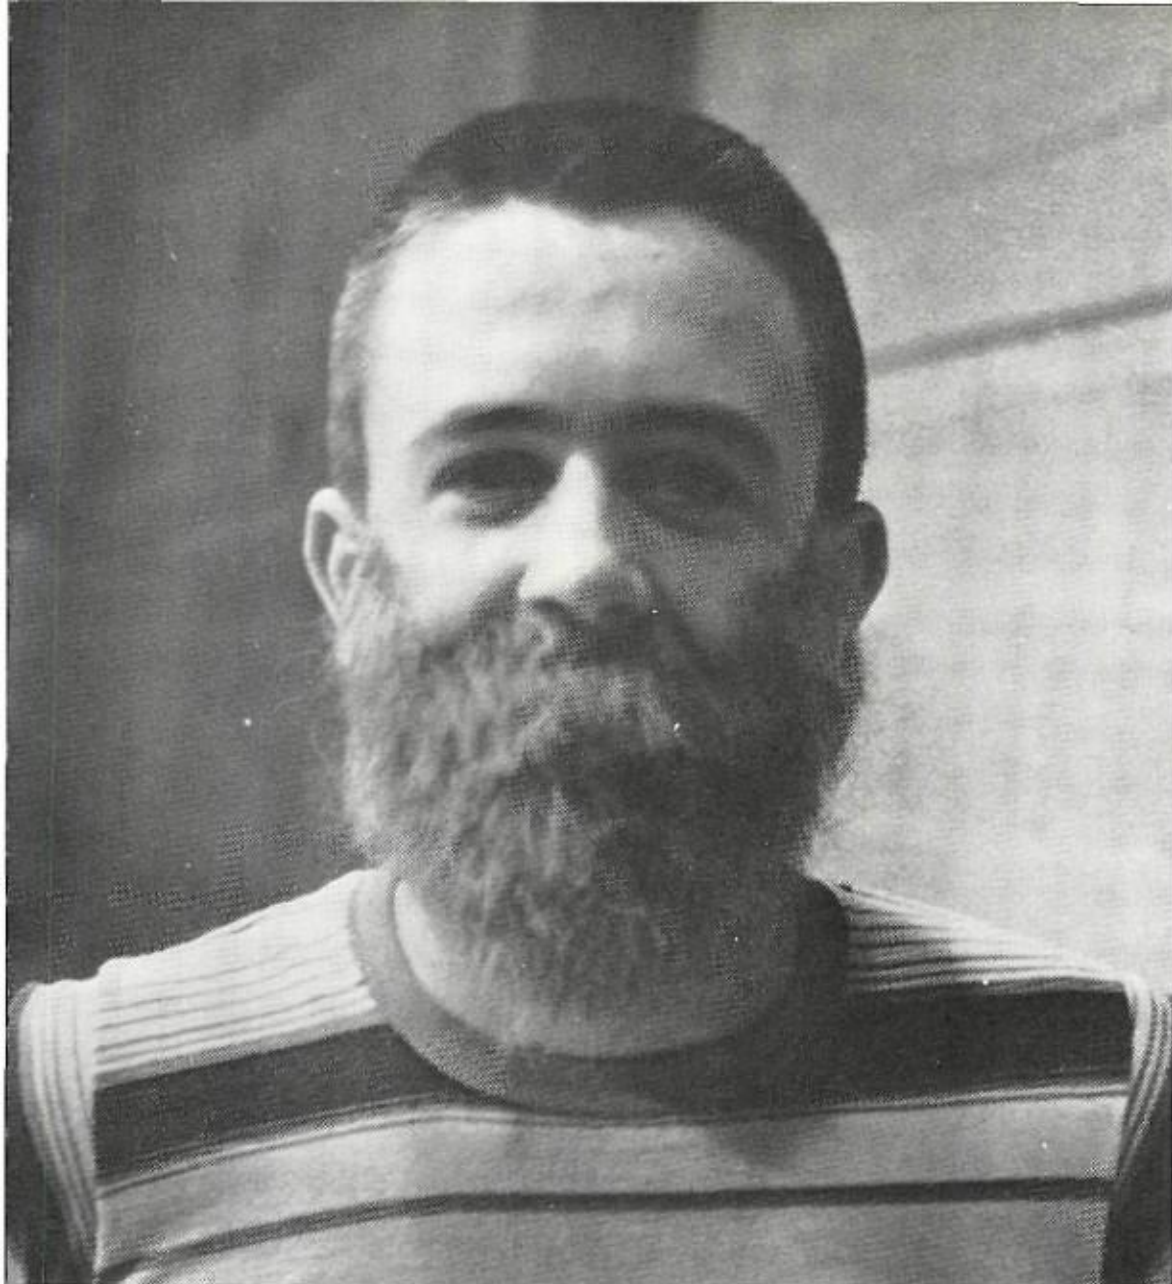

There will be moments when each of us will doubt ourselves. Often our goals will seem unattainable and therefore not worth the painful struggle towards them. But let us never stop reaching for stars, for it is while we reach for the infinite that we better understand those complex things at hand. Let us have the wisdom to find the music in our souls and the courage to share it with others. Each of us as a person has something to contribute to the whole, but if for one moment the machine is able to function successfully without these human parts then the machine has lost its intended purpose.

Because of this importance of the individual; because of this challenge of finding worthwhile goals while trying to maintain the dignity of each person, we dedicate this book to you, the INDIVIDUAL . . .

The world is all of us, and if we do not collapse, it will not.
—BOOTH TARKINGTON

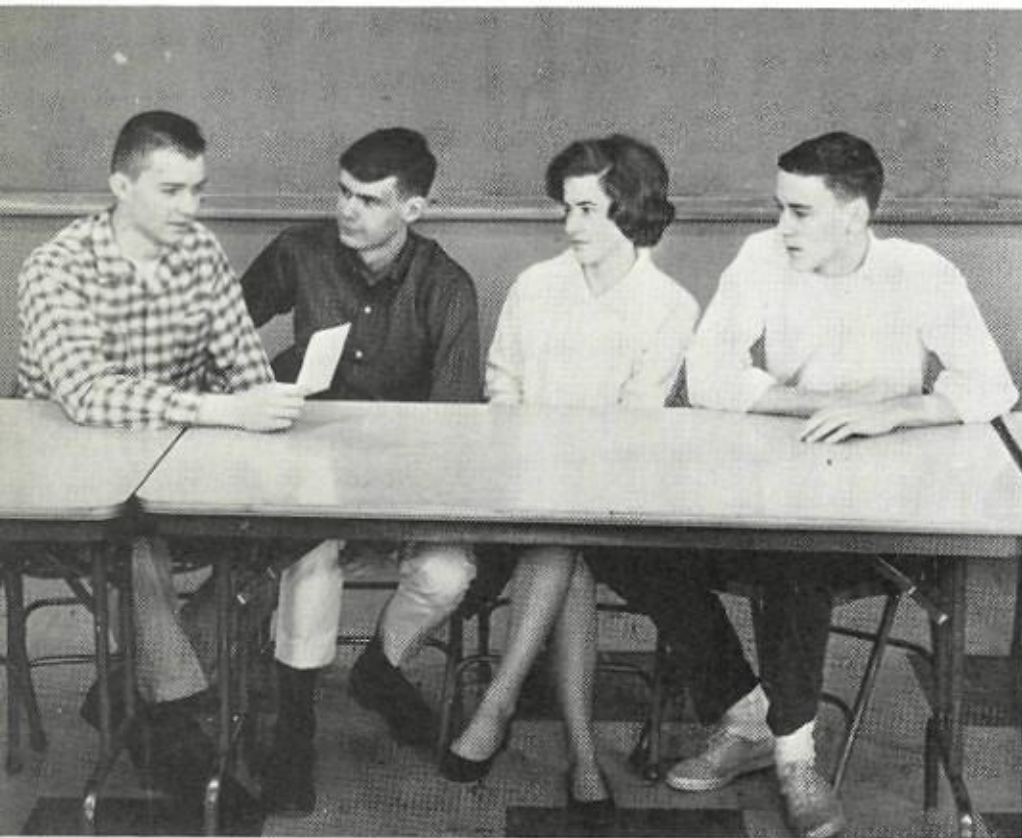

The greatness of a nation may be manifested in many ways—in its courage, its moral responsibility, its cultural and scientific eminence, the tenor of its daily life. But ultimately the source of its greatness is in the individuals who constitute the living substance of a nation.—THE PURSUIT OF EXCELLENCE; Special Studies Project Report V of the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, Inc.

Student Forum . . . the Student Government of Our School

SEATED: J. Williams, G. Oleson, R. MesKimen, S. Ryan, D. Redfern, J. Gnagy, G. Conklin, S. Anderson. ROW TWO: S. Boxwell, B. Force, T. Willett, C. Donnell, D. Jespersen, A. Behrens, G. Macheak, T. Fee, A. Searle, R. Morii. ROW THREE: T. Steffa, D. Johnson, M. Reisetter, R. Hughes, S. Brooks, R. Armstrong, E. Jacobsen, J. Lester, C. Williams, M. Hammer, J. Miller.

President Ed Jacobsen discusses a problem with Vice-President Dave Johnson, Secretary Cathy Donnell, and Treasurer Rich Hughes.

"... the student government of our school..." What exactly does that mean? The Cedar Falls Senior High School Student Forum affords students the important opportunity of voicing their opinions in the affairs that directly concern the organization of their educational system. This voice may take the form of their Forum delegate representing their views, or it can take the form of the student's presence at Forum meetings.

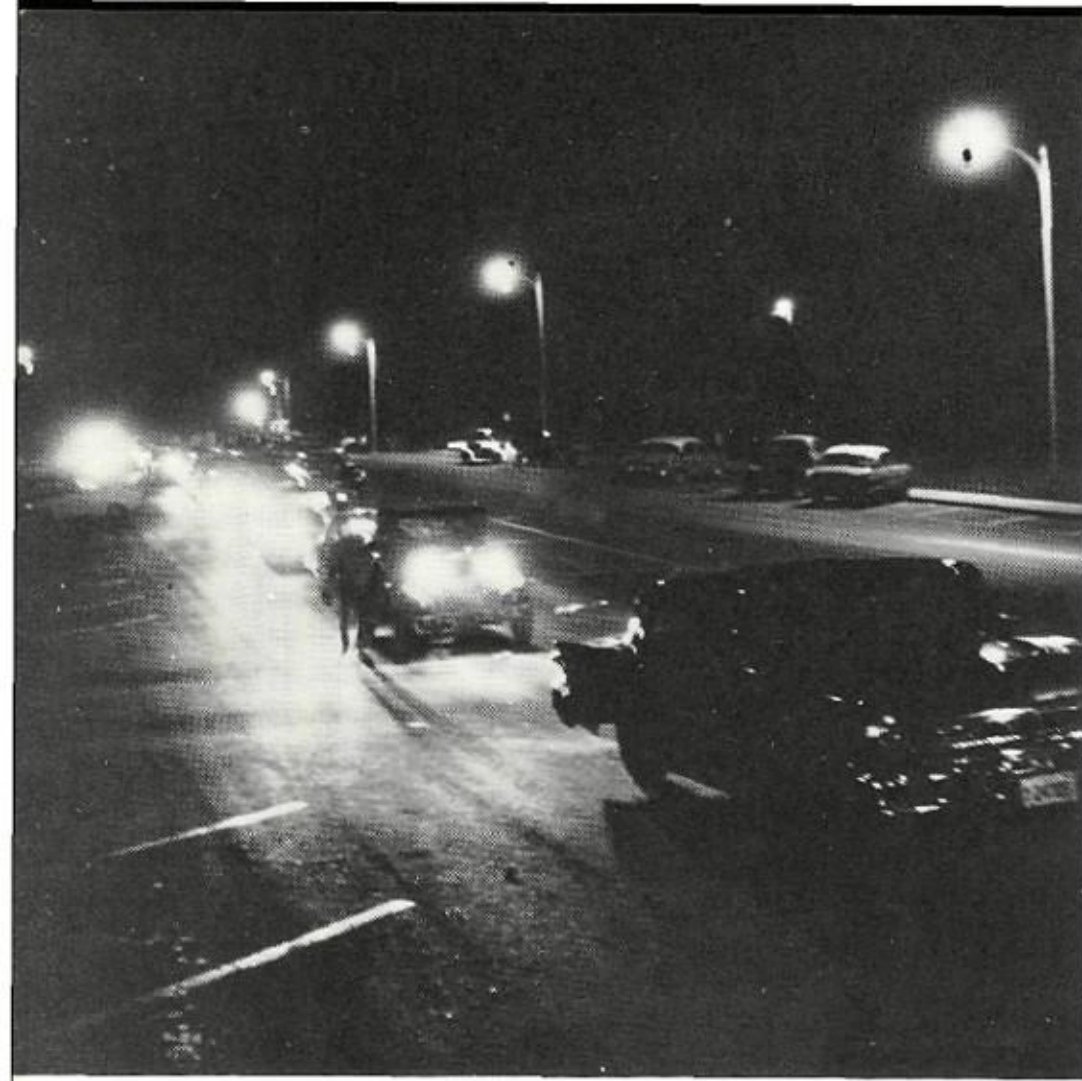

The Student Forum was very active this year; it planned and executed the Homecoming activities, it provided the students with an office telephone, it established new rules of self-government by adopting a new constitution, it worked in cooperation with the Guidance Office in acquainting new students with the school, and it produced a handbook for use in the guidance program.

The Student Forum has been active in the past, but even more important, let us consider the good it is capable of doing in the future. Let each student recognize and make use of these important capabilities. Because of its importance to the student, because it is the voice of the student body, it is fitting that the Student Forum be given this special recognition.

Early this year during the weeks of state and local campaigns and elections, student assemblies were held in the form of political rallies. Later, mock elections were held to determine where lay the sentiments of the student body. The Democratic political rally reached an uproarious climax when the party symbol sat directly in the path of political progress.

Activities

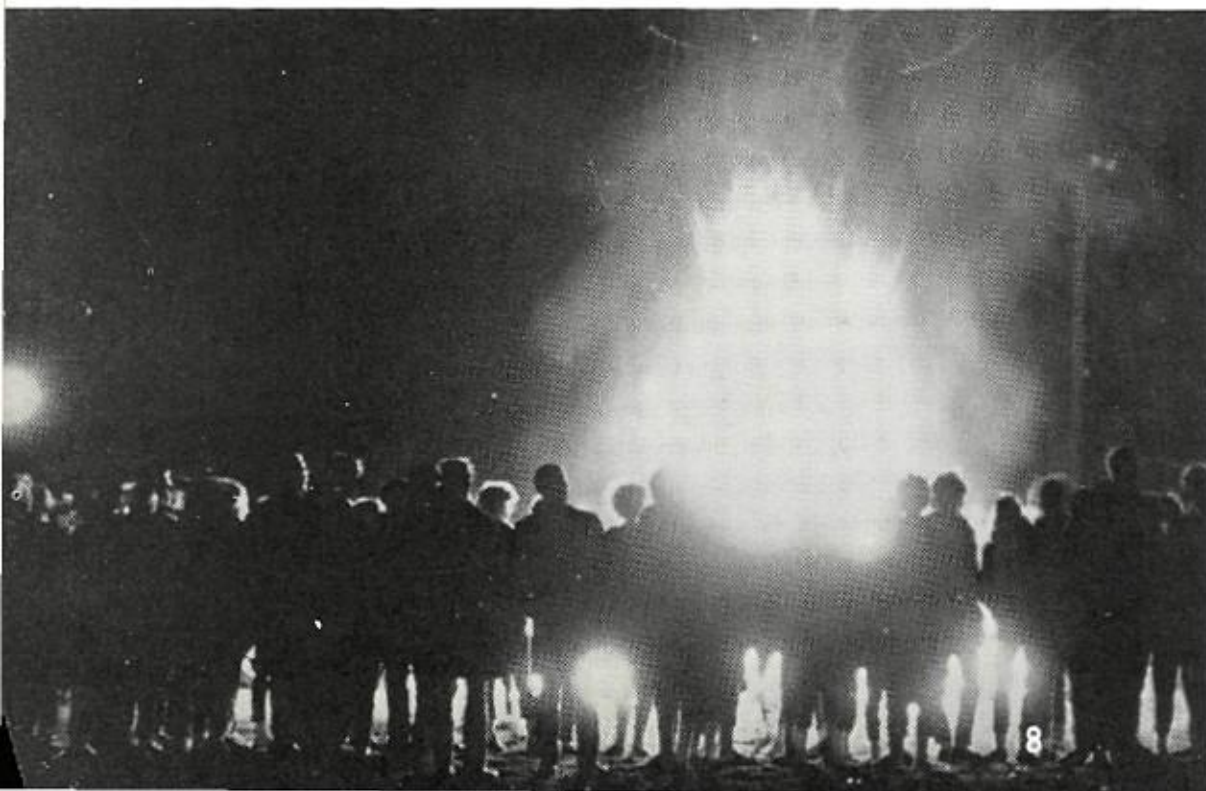

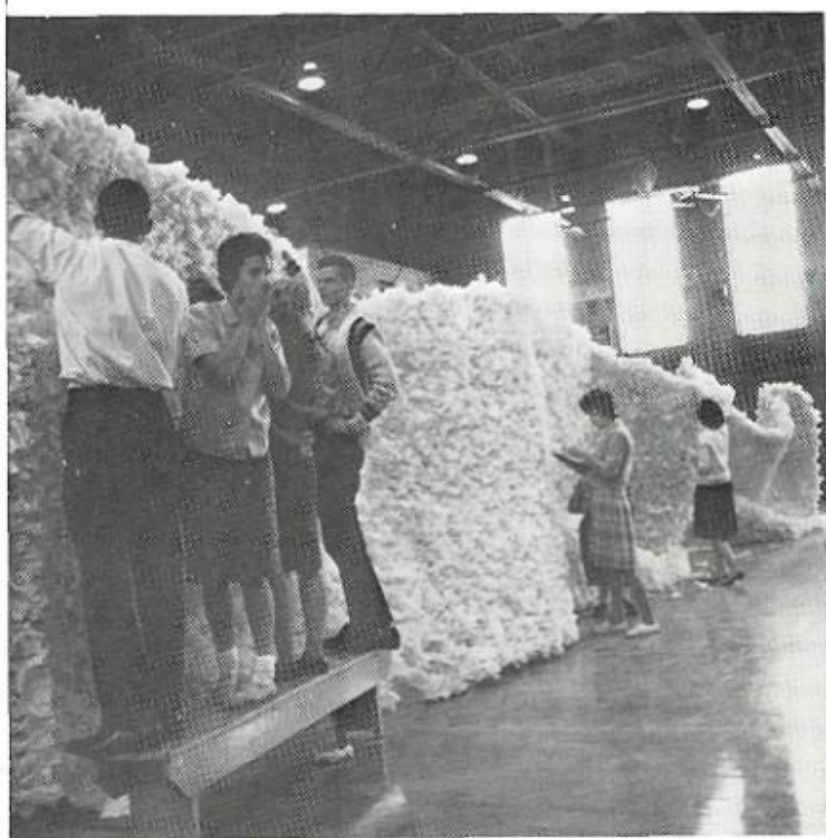

Homecoming 1962

Homecoming is a tradition remembered for excitement and enthusiasm. We remember the many hours of work on the float and gym decorations in anticipation of Homecoming night. We remember the blaze of the bonfire, the noise of the car caravan, and the cheers of the crowd. And no one forgets the radiance of the new queen as she is crowned.

This year's Homecoming had all these memories, but there was something more. There was the feeling of oneness as we all worked together. Nor will we forget the fun and warmth of the bonfire and the thrill of a closely knit crowd cheering as one.

We will remember Homecoming 1962.

Arsenic and Old Lace

Twelve bodies in the cellar. Two sweet old ladies upstairs. There couldn't be a connection . . . could there?

This delightful story is about two kind-hearted sisters who put lonely old men out of their misery by slipping a little arsenic into their wine. The nephew Mortimer, a drama critic, is totally unaware of his aunts' hobby until he finds the thirteenth victim in the window seat. He blames the murder on Teddy Brewster, his charming but slightly off-balance uncle who thinks he is Teddy Roosevelt. Mortimer leads a merry chase trying to keep the body hidden from his girl friend and three friendly policemen who keep dropping in. The arrival of Dr. Einstein and Jonathan Brewster, Mortimer's brother and the black sheep of the family, adds suspense and extra hilarity to this uproarious comedy.

Finchford Tech

It is not often that educational opportunities such as those at Project 80 are made available to high school students. The atmosphere was new and exciting; the teaching staff was excellent. Student reports and surveys, outside speakers, and unique demonstrations were frequent.

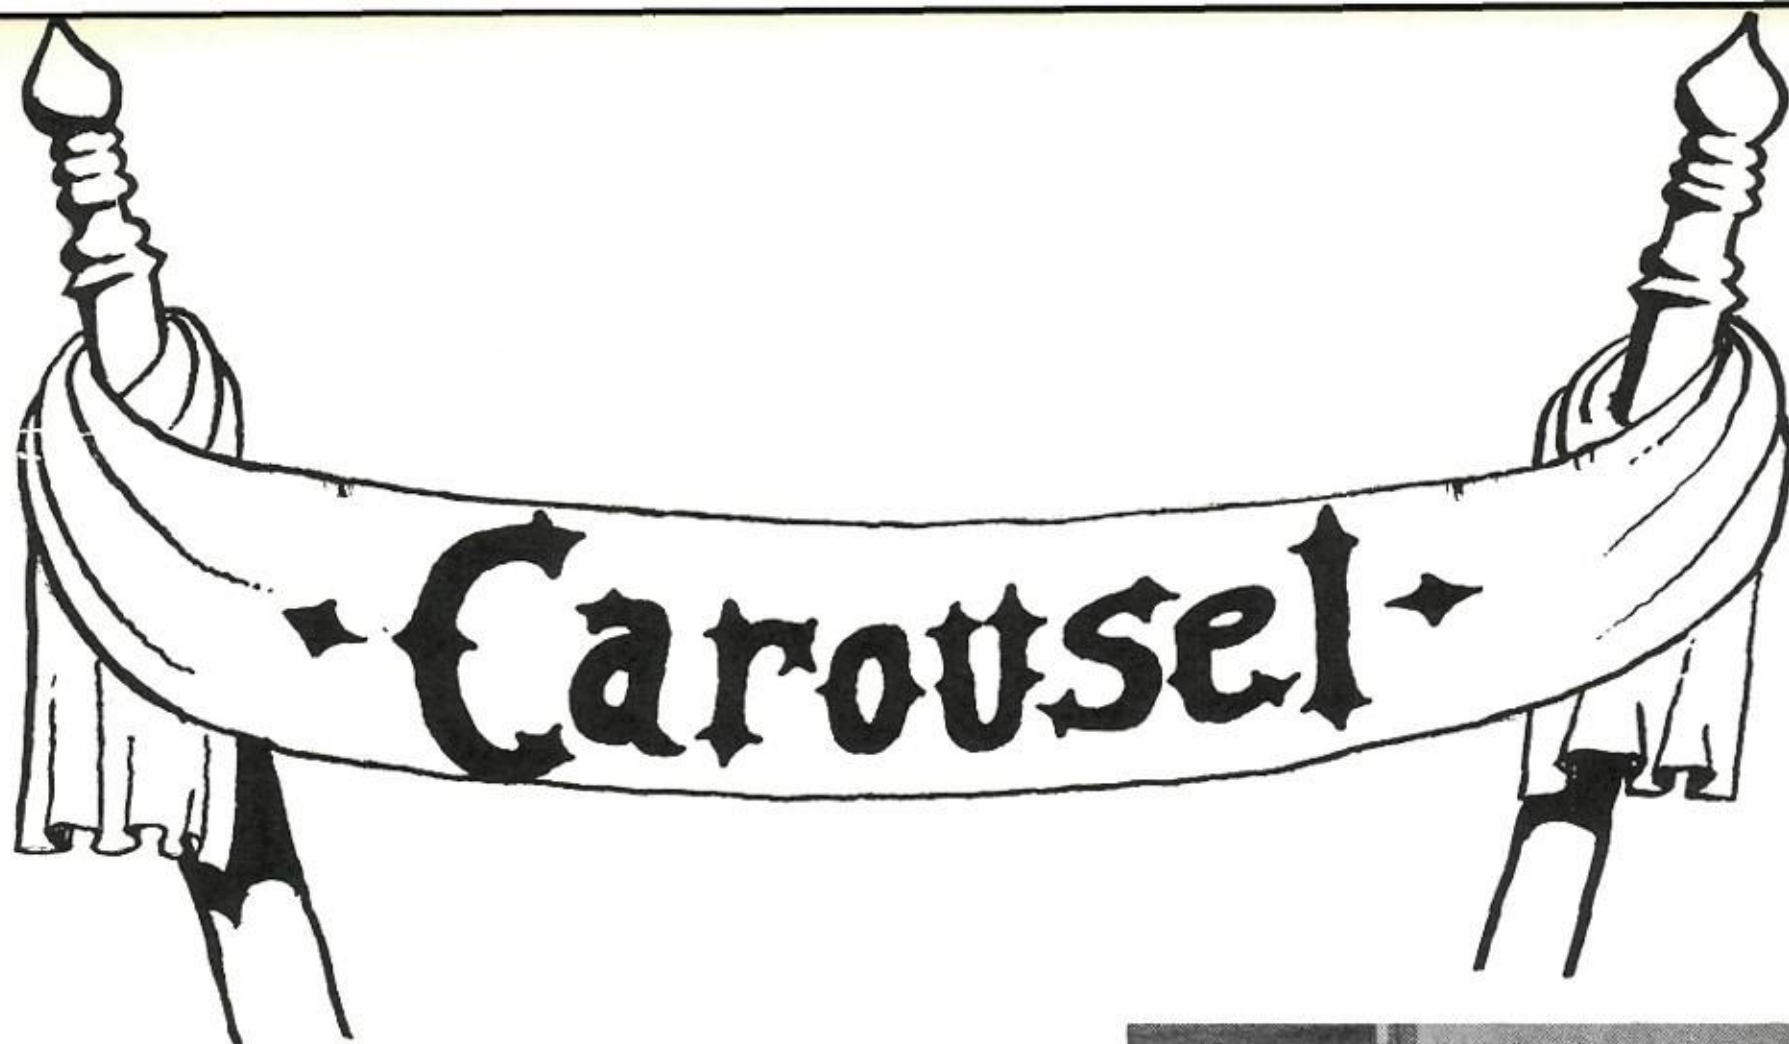

This is the last year that the old building at Finchford will be used by the high school as a classroom. The doors are closed and the halls are empty, but the experience gained there will always be remembered.

Open discussion was an interesting part of the program at Project 80. Students were allowed to speak freely without the presence of a teacher. Each member of the discussion group contributed in his own way to the flow of the stream of thought.

The work was hard, and it required that each student discipline himself according to his own abilities.

Carousel was this year's most outstanding production. The enthusiasm and cooperation of the student body produced a memorable musical.

Carousel unfolds a strange and beautiful love story, told in many unforgettable songs. Lovers walk the rocky Maine shores, sailors sing of the sea, townsfolk gather for a gay clambake, and life and death are viewed from a typically New England heaven.

The Saga of the The Junior -

Saga of the Seven Seas, the theme of the 1963 Junior-Senior Prom, was well developed in decorations, in menu, and in entertainment. But there were exceptions to this theme and one was the Boys' Barbershop Quartet. Their theme was every senior's theme.

Commencement

Mr. C. C. Stanard, Rev. Ronald Jespersen, Dr. Wm. Anderson, Dr. P. Murray (speaker), Mr. M. Voorhees.

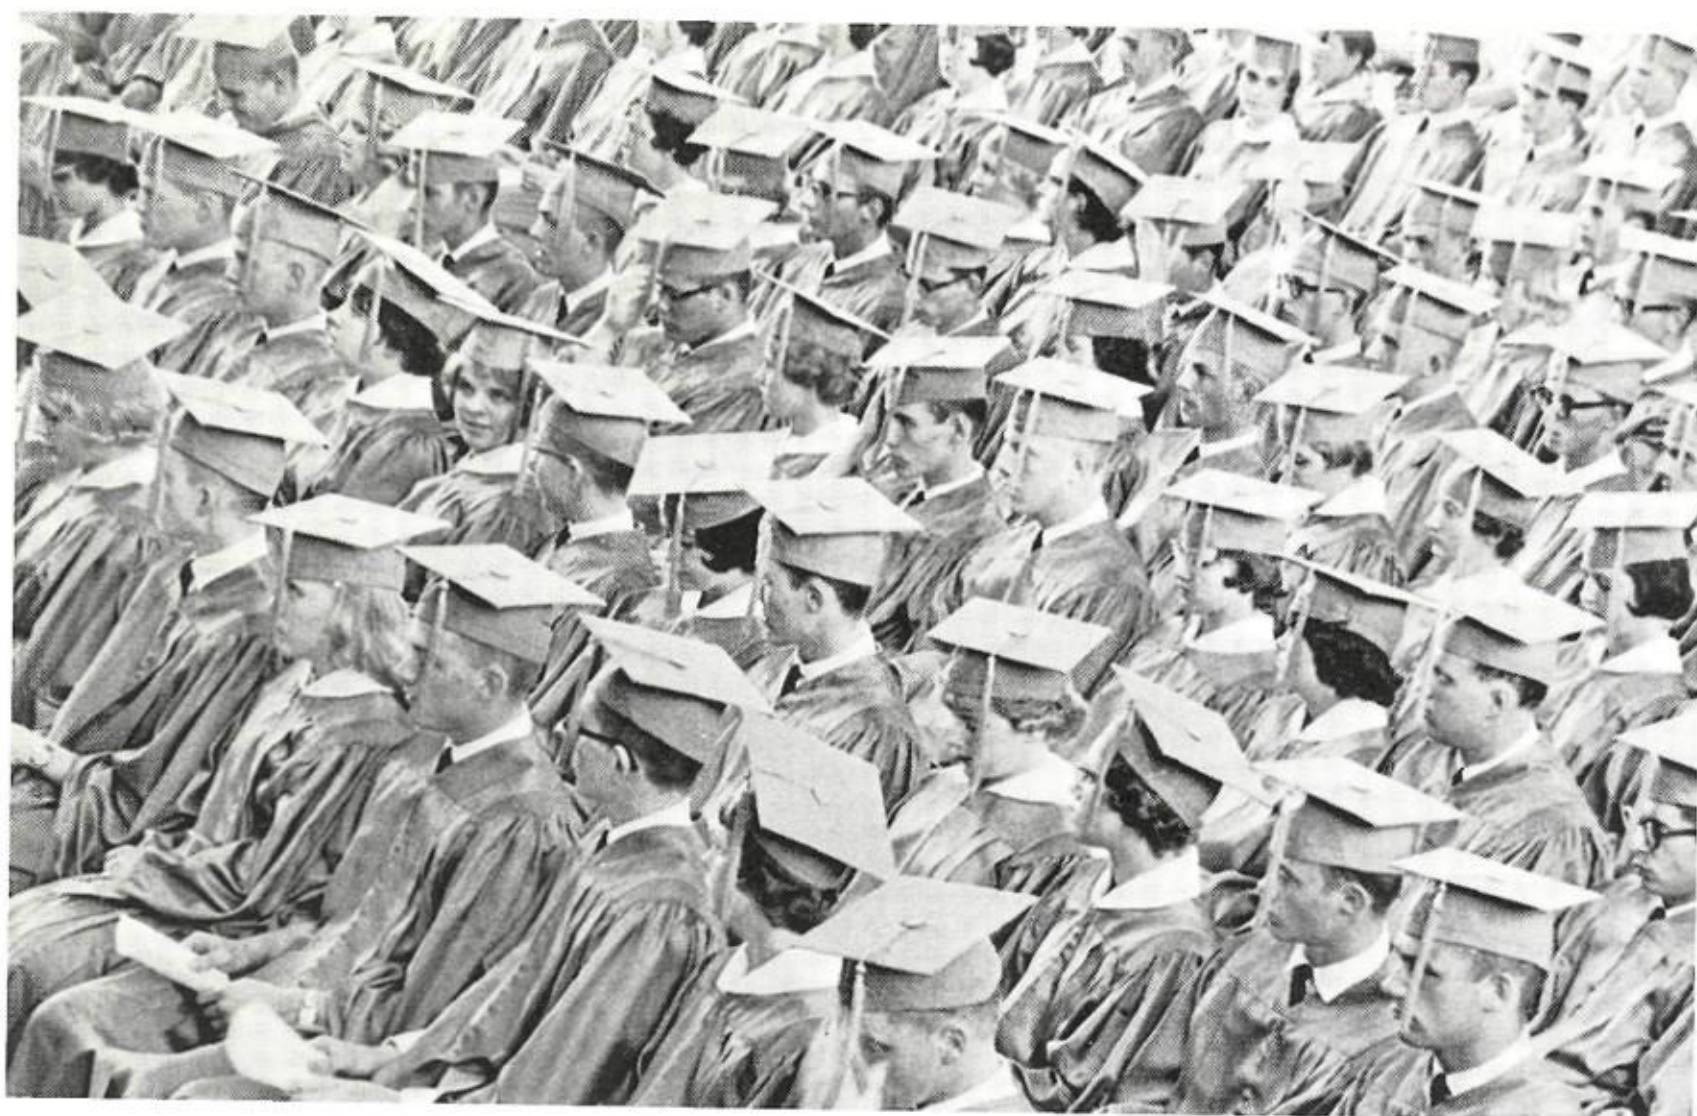

An important part of the commencement activities is the speaking. This year the guest speaker was Dr. Murray: his topic was "False Values." Mr. C. C. Stanard makes his final remarks to the seniors.

Mr. M. Voorhees, President of Board of Education, granting diploma to John Tietz. John had the highest academic record of his graduating class.

An important part of graduation is the last informal meeting at the Senior Party.

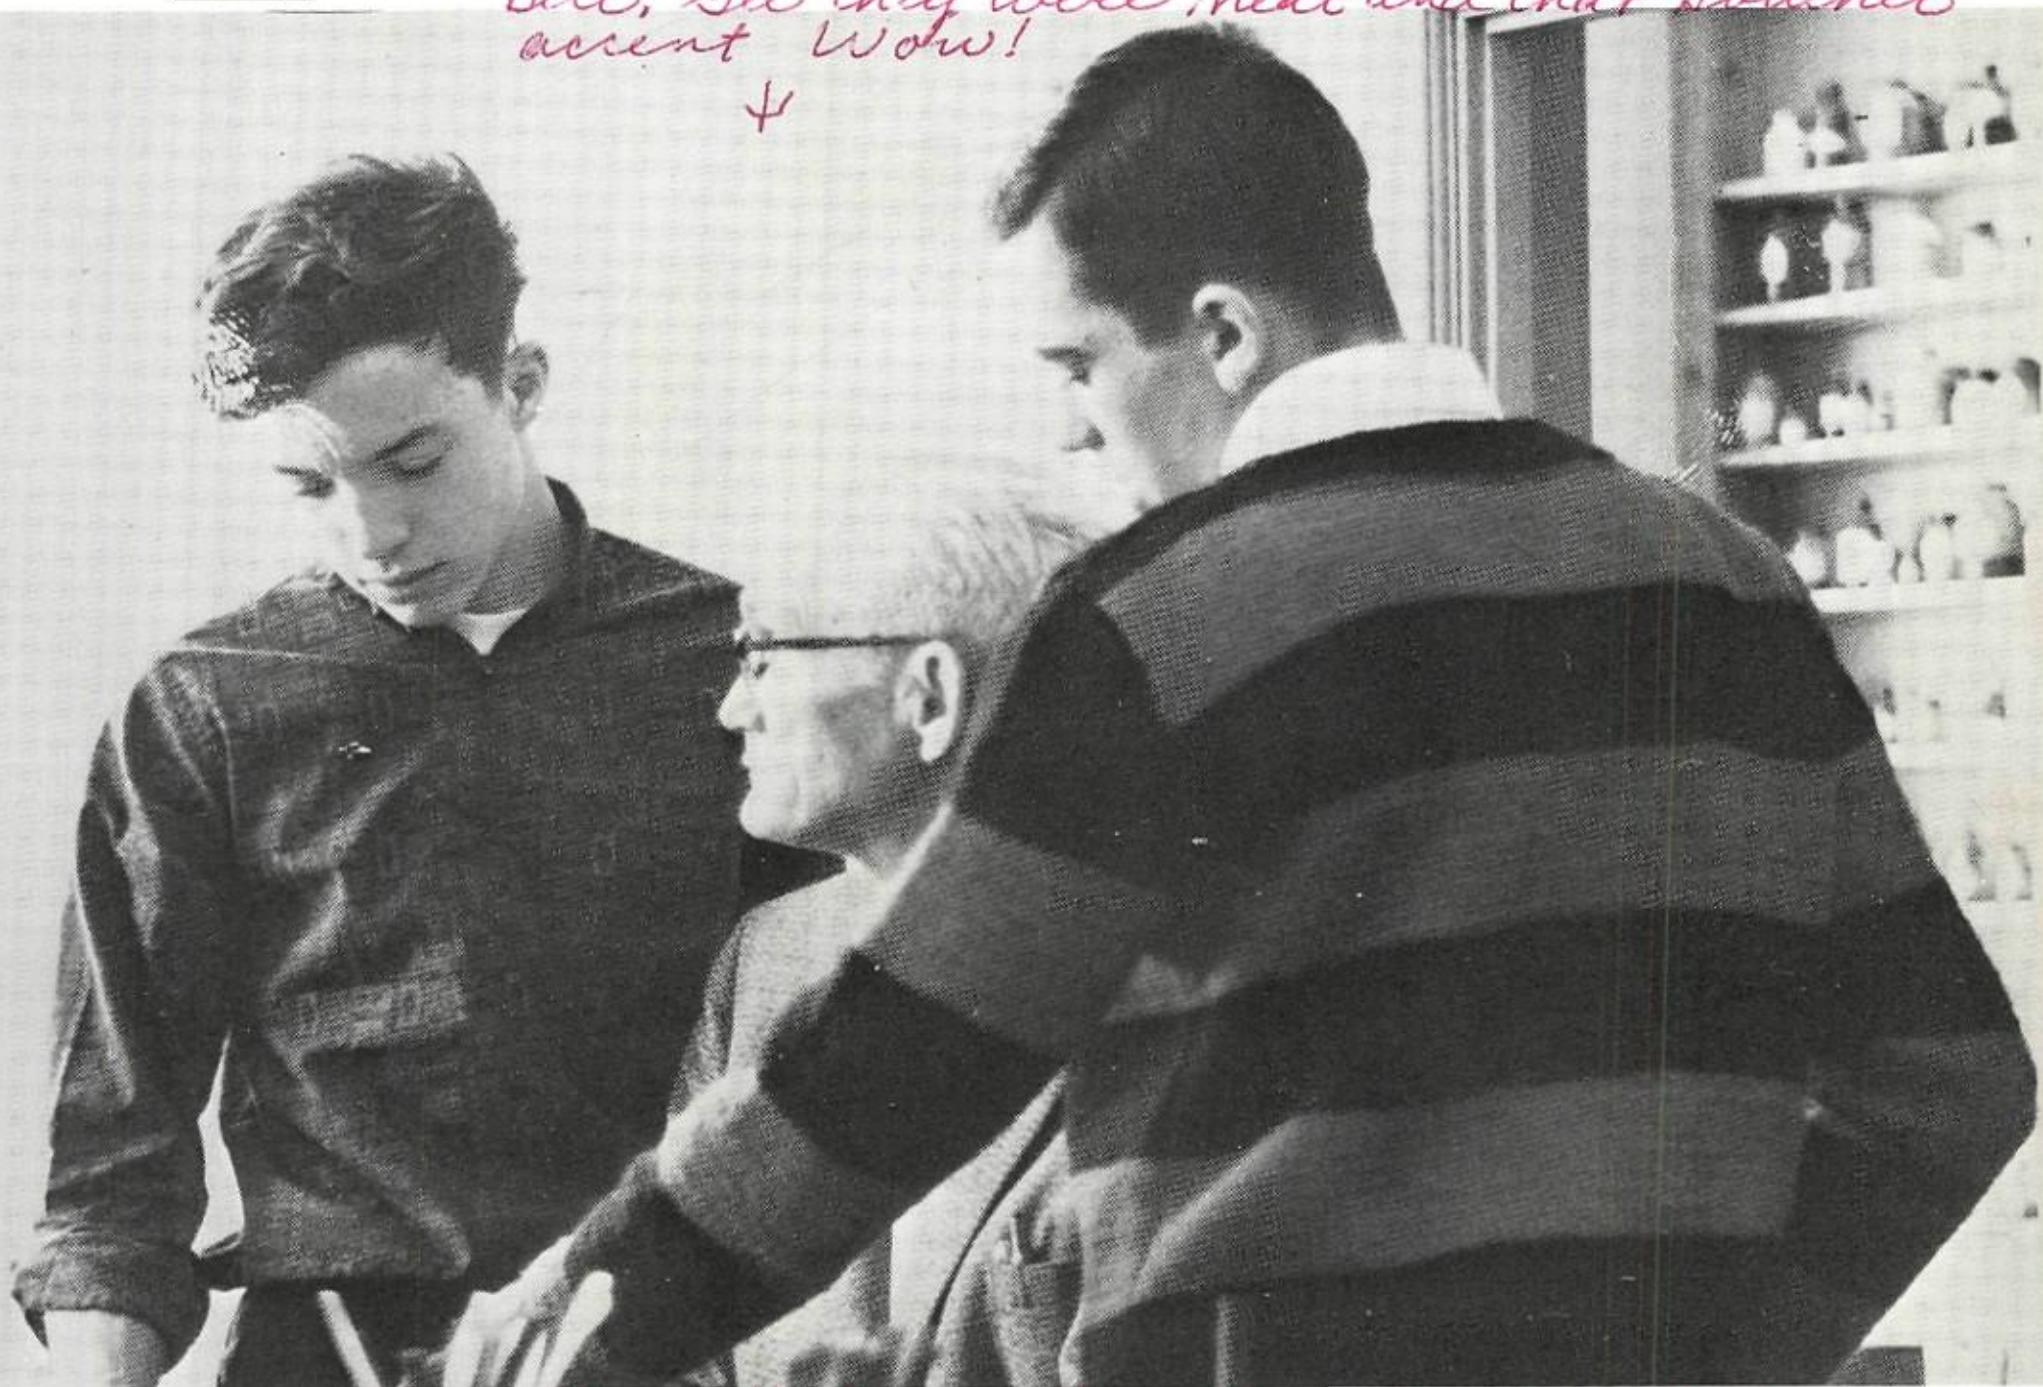

Hi again!

I hope my writing in this spot makes you mad.

I was thinkin' tonight! (no comment)
Wouldn't it be neat we had a folk singing party. (OH WELL, THAT KILLED THAT)

Remember that night when we met Mike and Bill, see they were neat and that souther accent Wow!

Remember that night when we met Mike and I were with Gloria and we piled out of her car and into Dato's and then we went around the corner and talked to Al and Deaf! Remember that night when we were in Waterloo and we met the orphan and the reverend. Goll they were had to get rid of. And that ice party with Jay. Remember that night, the night we met Mike, that you look the picture of those guys on the hill and when you went to play tennis with those guys, I would have sat in the trunk

American Field Service

Ritsuko attended the Prom with her escort, Ed Jacobsen.

The personal image we reflect to others is important to each of us. This year Ritsuko Morri, the American Field Exchange student from Kanazawa, Japan, acted as an ambassador between her home in Japan and her home in the United States. Ritsuko was not exactly sure what America would be like when she came here, but after spending a school year with her American family, the H. Searle family; after attending school for a year; and after living as we live she has had many of her questions answered. Ritsuko's personality was an important element towards developing a better understanding between our two countries.

Tiger Hi-Line Staff

SEATED: L. Wyant, S. Wick, R. Mershon, T. Willett. STANDING: G. Miller, G. Miller, S. McCrea, C. Morlan, C. Hansen, Mrs. Blow.

Each year the Tiger Hi-Line staff, under the direction of a student editor, produces a page of weekly school news in a local newspaper. The writing and subject matter is both informative and entertaining; it includes editorials, essays, poetry, a calendar of events, numerous articles concerning the activities of the student body, and photographic coverage of recent important school events.

One of the most important activities of the staff is to produce one issue of the Cedar Falls Daily Record. The experience gained on the staff is invaluable to the future student of journalism.

Distributive Education

STANDING: R. Fielding, B. Keizer, Mr. Blow, L. Wymore, R. Luders, J. Martin.
SEATED: J. Stocker, L. Roberts.

Distributive Education is designed to prepare a student for a successful career in a distributive occupation. It comprizes of two coordinated activities:

1. Covers a training station in a retail or service business under the supervision of the employer
2. Includes classroom instruction that enables the trainees to further their knowledge and progress on the job.

Distributive Education, under direction of Mr. Blow, combines both business and social activities.

Camera Club

The Camera Club is an organization composed of students interested in learning camera techniques so that they might better their photography and their knowledge of that science. Mr. Bullers, their advisor, is responsible for many of the photographs throughout this year-book.

Library Club

S. George, G. Miller, R. Peterson, G. Phillips, M. Frey, C. Jensen, S. McCrea, Mr. Bullers.

Library Club, which is composed of all the students who work in the school library, has two principal functions. First, it provides an opportunity for group instruction in library procedures. Second, through social activities it helps the students to become better acquainted with each other and, consequently, better able to work together.

STANDING: N. Lininger, C. Harper, C. McCoy, D. Maulson, K. Jensen, P. Bekner, C. Bousum, R. Ide, B. Thurston, J. Marks, A. Ide, G. Macheak, M. Burkhardt. SEATED: R. Renner, D. Barnard, J. White, J. Minikus, J. Nelson.

Hansen.

The purpose of the Junior Classical League is to study Greek and Latin civilizations. We believe that an acquaintance with civilizations of Greece and Rome will help us understand and appraise this world of today, which is indebted to the ancient civilizations for its government, laws, literature, language, and arts.

Junior Engineering Technical Society

Members of the JETS won numerous awards at seminars and contests throughout the midwest. Here we see several club members with their sponsor, Mr. Eason.

OFFICERS: President John Tietz, Vice-President Charles Refshauge, Secretary-Treasurer George Wood, not pictured.

Jets is a new organization designed to stimulate among high school students an interest in engineering and to assist capable students in training for careers in the various fields of technical engineering.

Pep Club

The purpose of the Pep Club is to further the enthusiasm of the entire student body towards athletic events. The red blazers of the Pep Club members were seen everywhere our teams participated in athletic contests.

Girls' Recreation Association

Each year the GRA organizes the ARMY-NAVY game. This year's tournament was played before a large crowd of enthusiastic fans.

It is only fitting that the boys should cheer for the girls' basketball teams. Too often we forget the simple beauty of this side of our young men and their personalities.

Lettermen

The Lettermen, a club comprised of athletic letter winners, devotes its time to the extension of interest in athletics. They donated their time to helping at athletic events throughout the year. This year they did something that will always merit them extra respect; they organized and hosted a special benefit wrestling meet for Keith Stilwell.

Hi there (again!)
 Did you think it was through on that one page? Goodness! Anyone for tennis? or should Boy was I mad! I should getting my Biology done!
 Hey, let's sign a crew's card, do I ever?
 Wish our pep club picture Lettermen's picture! I guess you weren't there anyway! Anyone for a picture?
 track meet? Shall we?
 you can read the ever so I won't!! If I ever
 I guess I know who to call on! If you help!! I don't know if I have the nerve to Some people who know if I have the nerve to quit on the big page because I'm running out of room!!
 See ya later

Mixed Emotions of the Tiger Bosses . . .

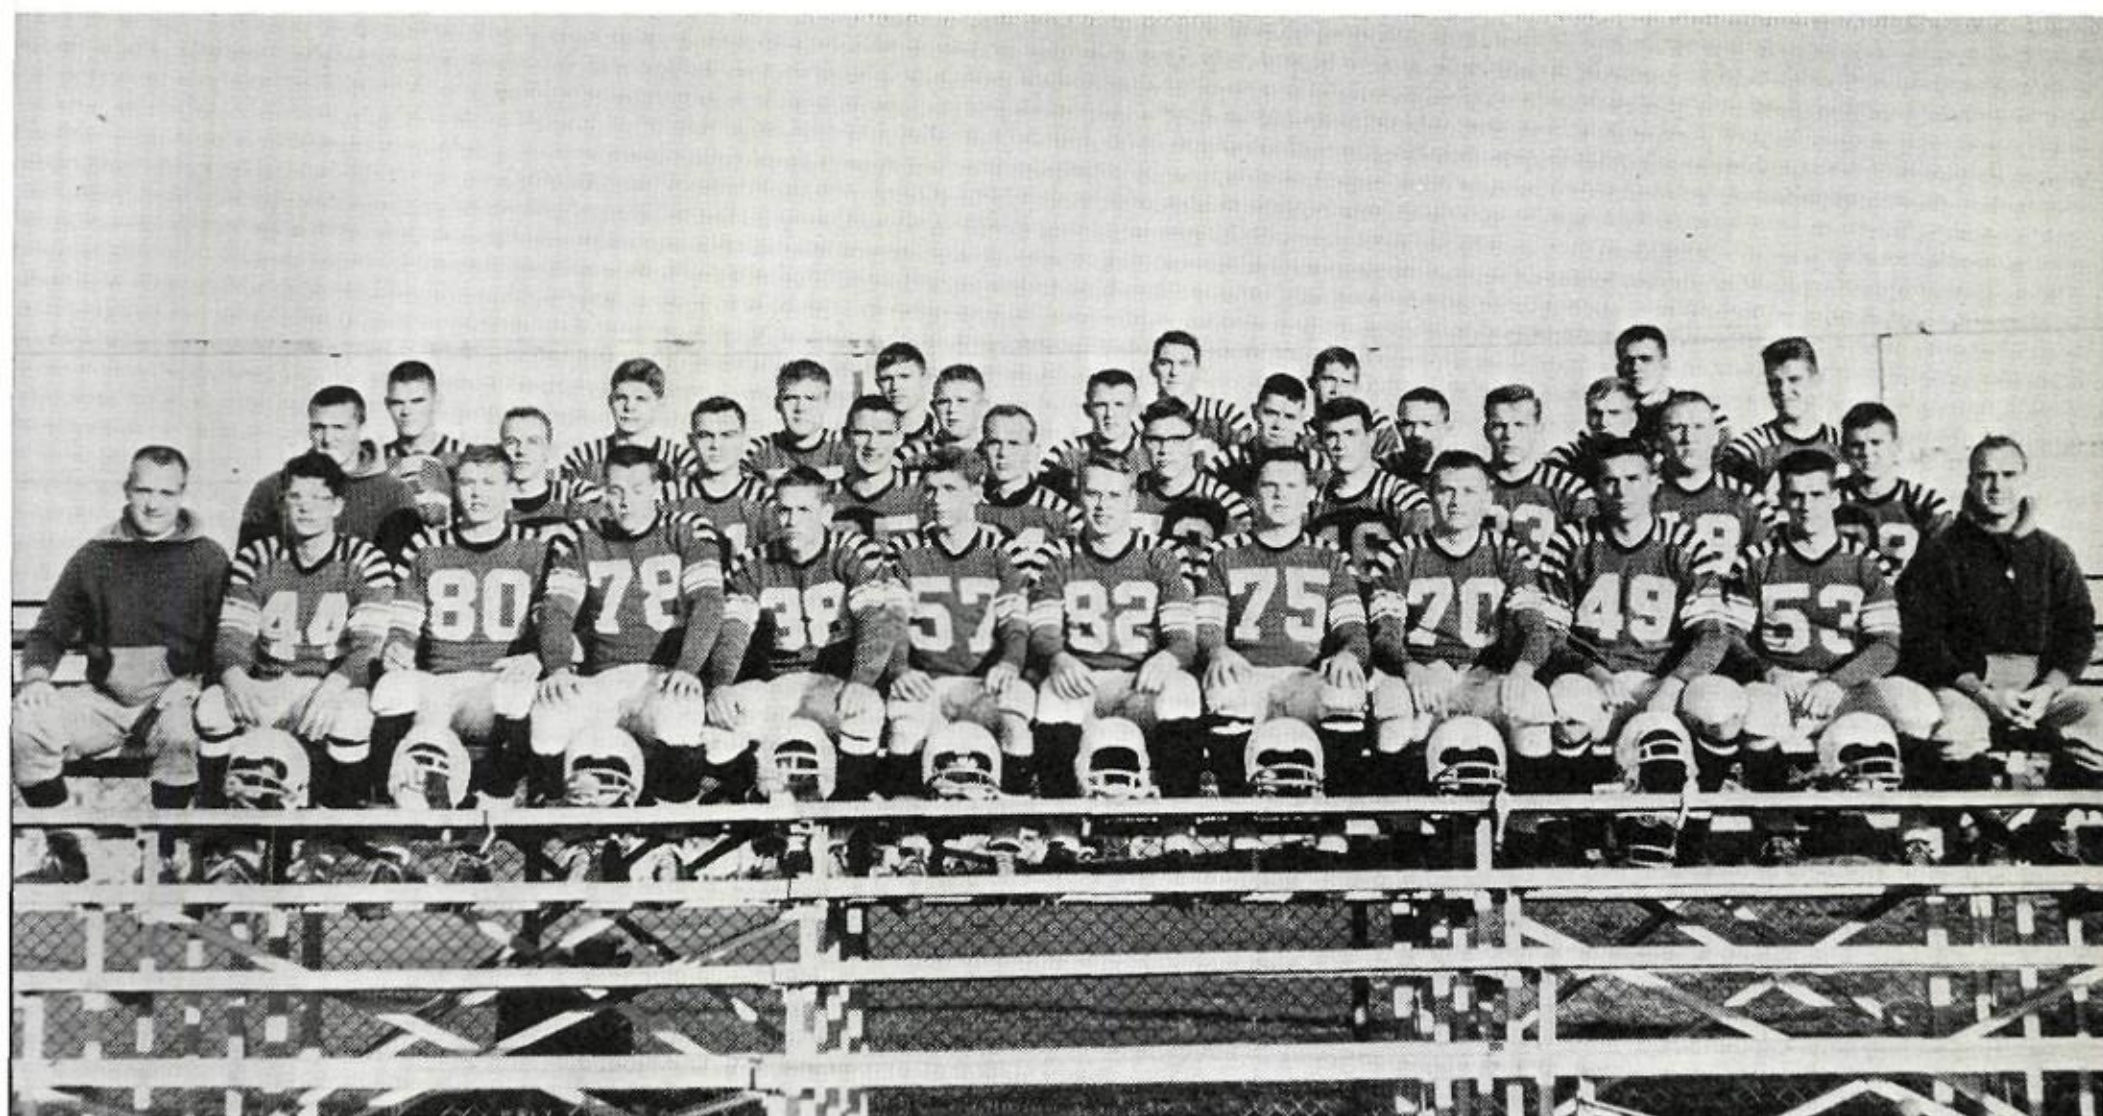

Without leaders there can be no organization. A club of any sort is only as strong as the few people who take the important responsibility of leading. Athletics is no exception to the rule.

These are the coaches that led our Tiger teams. These are the devoted bosses that spent many hours developing individuals into better athletes, better men.

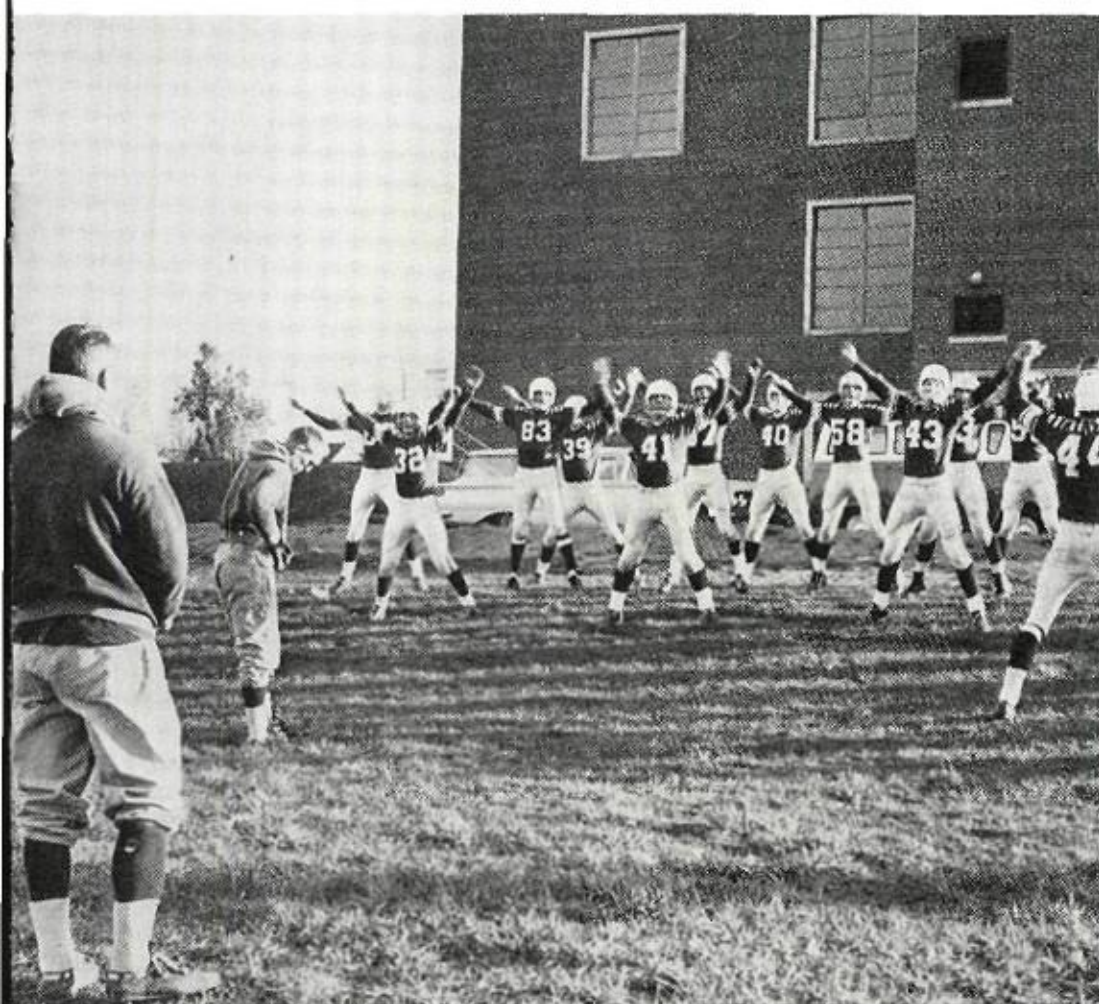

The camera captures all the excitement of the year's first football game.

Paulette, (Melvin Smith)

I can really be glad you all went to Kansas this summer. I had so damn[?] much fun! Remember Gary(?) and our friend from Pakistan? Oh yes! Don't forget the mad scientist. I think all you girls are an absolute riot! You know that Steve guy from Parkersburg? He sure is cute!! Parkersburg here I come! Those go-carts are the thing for me, they really go. We're really going to have a ball this year, especially monopolizing the papers! Gee, I've had so much fun so far this year that I just hope it continues. I could go on and write a book. Hope you're enjoying your junior year as much as I am. Don't you dig this crazy 4th grade writing?

Love ya,

MERRY CHRISTMAS!
(in case I forget at Christ mas)

"Diane NORMAN"

Dearest Paulette (!)

This little note is going to be very formal! Ha!
I've got so much space to write in! Where do I start? I don't like that ol' bit of "Remember when..." so I won't say it! I'll never forget our first year in junior high. You weren't there for the first month!! (well practically!!) and I began to think that your name was just something difficult they made up to keep the teachers on ~~there~~ ^{their} toes! Tee Hee!
(There, I took up a whole ^{line} spell, too!

Of course, there's always the time that we took that picture of those boys! And it was the only picture on the roll that turned out!!
We sure had fun with Mike & Bill! Boy, I wish we could see them again. Well, I know Bill's here cause I've seen him (nose in the air!) but I'm beginning to wonder about Mike! He should be with Bill when we've seen him (unless they've had a falling out!)

Of course I don't mind ^{sorry} not seeing Mike & Bill
if we can see Steve & Dick! (and Tom & Chris...
"your presence is not appreciated!") They're really a couple of nice guys & I hope we see a lot of them. (We can have them up some night & Dick can cook spaget for us!)

I don't think I'll ever be able to eat a pizza at the Panther again! Especially with ol' Gary serving them!! I'd sure like to tell him & his friends a thing or two! Cause we're the rough, tough juniors!
I'm running out of space so look through the back!! Love ya, Ol' 27!

Paulette,

Always remember the fun we had in geometry and Haligh's party. I hope you learn how to shock the speedometer so you can go on some nice long rides. Ah!
Remember the fun we had in Nichols class always get bawled out for talking.
Best wishes to a nice kid in the future.

Love ya,
Kathy

Paulette,

To a real swell kid whos alot of fun to be with. I sure hope you can bowl this year because I thought it was a riot especially with you and Pat.
Stay happy and good luck always.

Love,
Kathy
